Greek shipping remains important to the maritime economy, constituting approximately 20 percent of the world’s shipping fleet. In spite of the volatile markets and economic downturn, Greek shipping professionals have consistently adapted to changing conditions, seeking out growth and opportunity rather than yielding to their circumstances.

With an average of 1,000 attendees each year, this event covers the latest developments and trends in international trade, dry bulk commodities, and the energy markets—framed against the broader backdrop of the global economy. Its main focus is on the various funding alternatives for raising capital among listed and private shipping companies. Experts will also explore the role of private equity and joint venture in shipping today including entry and exit strategies and will discuss investor attitudes in shipping today. The Forum will also discuss the major geopolitical and regulatory changes affecting shipping and trends in commercial and technical fleet management.

Capital Link’s Shipping Forums are well-known for their high quality and effectiveness. They are unique marketing and networking events attended by a large and high caliber audience of shipping industry executives, such as owners, commercial and investment bankers, investors, analysts, media, and a wide range of other industry participants.

Capital Link has made a major commitment to serve as an effective link between shipping, financiers and investors around the world. In this context, beyond the tailor made investor relations and financial communications strategies we formulate and execute for each of our clients, we have undertaken several initiatives aimed to enhance the information flow and raise the profile of shipping to the wider investment community.

We believe that with our shipping website, webinars, newsletters and conferences in Athens, London, New York, Shanghai and as of this year in Limassol, we have established a unique interactive platform of value and effectiveness that links investors, financiers, shipping companies and the broader shipping industry.

During the luncheon, the “2017 Capital Link Greek Shipping Leadership Award” will be presented to Professor Costas Th. Grammenos, CBE DSc LRF Chair in Shipping, Trade & Finance, Chairman at the Costas Grammenos Centre for Shipping, Trade & Finance and Professor at the Cass Business School. Professor Grammenos has made a unique contribution to the Greek and to the global shipping industry not only by providing scientific and academic thought leadership through his writings and teachings but also through the establishment of an educational institution that has become the must-attend university for those who aspire careers in shipping, energy, trade and finance.

We would like to thank the sponsors, media partners and supporting organizations for their cooperation and contribution in making this event such a unique success. We are gratified to see that the majority of our sponsors are with us year after year and support all of our Shipping Forums, indicating the wide acceptance of the Capital Link Shipping Forums in the financial, investment and shipping communities.

Sincerely,
Nicolas Bornozis, President
Capital Link, Inc.

The Onassis Foundation was established in 1975, complying with Aristotle Onassis’ last will, which was to dedicate half of his fortune to public welfare, in memory of his tragically lost son, Alexander.

Since then, extending Aristotle Onassis’ entrepreneurial and shipping legacy, the Foundation has managed to quadruple this heritage and currently owns a fleet of 27 vessels plus various assets. Every year, 40% of its business profits are donated to the Onassis Public Benefit Foundation, as means of supporting the Greek society in critical areas: health, education and culture, aiming at enhancing social cohesion.

All of the Foundation’s initiatives focus on broadening the accessibility, for the largest possible number of people, to these key public benefits. The Foundation still reflects the bold and innovative spirit of Aristotle Onassis, operating as a springboard, providing the right context for our society to release its potential and to spread its wings, to move forward and to ensure an optimistic outlook for its future. A strong advocate of cooperation and alliances, the Foundation cultivates a synergistic philosophy and by investing in meritocracy and excellence, it promotes eventually the best of Greece, through visionary people, outstanding projects and relevant causes.
