

WATSON FARLEY
&
WILLIAMS

DECARBONIZATION - CONQUERING THE NEXT FRONTIER

12TH ANNUAL CAPITAL LINK SHIPPING & MARINE SERVICES FORUM

10 SEPTEMBER 2019

Decarbonization - Conquering the Next Frontier

Beginning of the Longer Journey – Targets, Challenges & Strategies

Panellists:

- Dr Grahaeme Henderson, Vice President, Shipping & Maritime – Shell International Trading and Shipping Company Limited
- Mr Michael Parker, Chairman, Global Shipping, Logistics & Offshore and Chairman, Corporate Banking, EMEA – Citi
- Dr Martin Stopford, Non-Executive President – Clarkson Research Services Limited

Moderator:

- Patrick Kirkby, Partner, Asset Finance Group – Watson Farley & Williams LLP

Question 1

Do you think there may be pressures to change the figure of 50% as the measure of reduction of CO2 emissions by 2050, given the interval of time between now and 2050?

Question 2

What do you see as the challenges for owners and operators in the alternatives or supplements to fossil fuel use?

Question 3

What role do you see banks and others playing as part of the decarbonisation targets?

Question 4

How much is data analysis, the rise of the computer and automation key to the strategies of achieving CO2 and fuel consumption reductions?

Panellists:

- Dr Grahaeme Henderson, Vice President, Shipping & Maritime – Shell International Trading and Shipping Company Limited
- Mr Michael Parker, Chairman, Global Shipping, Logistics & Offshore and Chairman, Corporate Banking, EMEA – Citi
- Dr Martin Stopford, Non-Executive President – Clarkson Research Services Limited

Moderator:

- Patrick Kirkby, Partner, Asset Finance Group – Watson Farley & Williams LLP

WATSON FARLEY
&
WILLIAMS

THE GLOBAL MARITIME LAW FIRM

We play a key role in delivering integrated, cross-border legal advice covering all aspects of the maritime sector including ship finance, commercial shipping, leasing, corporate and commercial contracts, tax and litigation. In uncertain times, we are trusted to deliver the exceptional legal advice required to achieve successful results.

Ranked Band 1 in Chambers and Partners in 10 jurisdictions worldwide.

